PLEASURE-SEEKERS COMING BACK FROM THE COUNTRY.

There seems to be no doubt that the big and gentle Bootles and his pretty baby will stay at the Madison Square Theatre till Mr. Palmer opens his regular season, and that will not be till the middle or the latter part of next month. The piece has shown its power to draw good matinee audiences, and in fact th stiendance is generally good and varies but little from night to night.

Brigands" brandished their knives at the Casino last night for the last time, for the present at least, and now they will seek honest gain on road. To-morrow evening "The Drum-Major" wave his baton and will try to show his visitors that he is worthy to take the place of the harmonious thieves that were before him.

Standard Theatre will open its doors for the teason to-morrow evening, when "Hands Across the a" will have its first performance before a New-York audience. It is said to have made good impres-

The present week will be the last of Sol Smith Russell's engagement in "A Poor Relation" at Daly' Theatre. Mr. Russell means to come back to New York next season, and there would be no reason why he could not prolong his present visit if he did not

The last lingering summer wanderer from the cast of "Clover" has come back, preferring now the exotle of the town to the leaves and blossoms of country pastures. The wanderers are coming back to the auditorium of Palmer's Theatre, too, and all the inflications are of an awakening city season.

Mr. Sothern has many friends and he is constantly winning more. When they have seen his impersonation of "Lord Chumley" they come to see it again and there seems to be no likelihood that the young actor will have to assume any other character before the end of his engagement at the Lyceum Theatre.

Joseph Haworth will open his season with "Pau Kauvar" at the Grand Opera House to-morrow night. The present cast of the piece is as follows: Paul Kauvar, Joseph Haworth; Marquise de Vaux, George Wessells; Honore Albert Maxime, C. Vandenhoff; General Delaroche, Robert W. Drouet; General Kleterre E. R. Spencer; Colonel La Hogue, George Conway Dodolphe Potin, F. J. Currier; Carrac, Joseph Ransome; Bourdotte, John Daly; Goulon, M. J. Fenton First Orderly, E. Leslie; Second Orderly, Harry Hermance: Diane de Beaumont, Miss Lizzle Rechelle: Nanette Potin, Miss Louise Rtal; Scarlotte, Miss Mary

"The Oolah" steadily adds to its large number of performances and the company has not yet packed its trunk for its next engagement. Neither do the audiences tire of the much-married public servant and his friends and customers, and the principal songs have to be repeated as often as ever.

"Shenandoah" has pleased a good many people in the last week, and especially the people who are most interested in it. Bronson Howard was surprised to find himself called before the curtain on Tuesday night, a compliment seldom paid to an author after the first night of a new piece.

Miss Lenore Snyder, who is singing the title-part in "Paola" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, has made rapid progress as an opera singer. A year ago she was a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis, which President Harrison attended. Mr. Dickson, of the Grand Opera House there, advised her to go on the stage, and she finally did so, singing with a company in Philadelphia. Later she was engaged by Mr. Duff, and has a leading part in the present opera. "Paola" drew some good houses last week.

Carroll Johnson and "The Fairies' Well" have been at the Fourteenth Street Theatre for a week, and will stay there for one week more. Mr. Johnson's songs and dances have met with a good deal of favor, as has also the comedy work of some of the other embers of the company.
"Ferneliff," the peaceful war play, has drawn enough people to the Union Square Theatre in the last week to make the "Standing Room Only" sign necessary two or three times. Mr. Haworth has made some changes in the play, and intends to make it as effective throughout as possible.

"McKenna's Flirtation" is another play that has been drawing good houses in spite of the weather. The aftendance at the matinees at the New Park Theatre has been especially satisfactory, and the actors and managers believe that the piece is safe for several weeks to come.

The working of the elaborate scenes in "The Great stage excite the wonder and applause of the audiences, generally large ones, at Proctor's Twenty-third Street The actors in the shipwreck scene were drilled by Captain Patterson, of the Life-saving Station at Sandy Hook.

"Natural Gas" has not much longer to stay at the thus far, and the audiences have apparently been pleased with the efforts of the comedians for their Efforts to secure additional time for "Antiope" at Niblo's Garden have proved unsuccessful, and the piece will be seen there for only two weeks more. Bolossy Kiralfy has arranged some new features for the remaining part of the engagement. The Amberg Theatre will open for the season next Thursday evening, and Carl Streitman, the tenor, will sing for the first time on Friday evening. Miss Millward and Mr. Ferris will arrive in this country in about a week, and will play "Roger La

Honte' at Niblo's Garden on October 7. The company supporting them will be entirely American, and the production will be under the direction of Augustin production will be under the direction of Augustin Daly.

The Emma Juch opera company will travel with a special train of three Pullman cars and three large baggage cars. The list of the principals engaged includes the following: Sopranos, Miss Emma Juch, Madame Bonic-Serrano, Miss Selma Kronald and Miss Susia Leonhardt: contraito, Miss Lizzle Maculchell; susia Leonhardt: contraito, Miss Lizzle Maculchell; tenors, Charles Hedmondt, Edwin Singer, Ferdinand Urban; baritones, Alonzo E, Stoddard and William Botts; bassos, Franz Vetta and E. N. Knight. The season opens at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia on October 21.

Sedley Brown, the author of "Pine Meadow," has written another play which he means to present in New-York soon. "Pine Meadow" will be played at the Fourteenth Street Theatre early in the spring.

"The Suspect" is a play adapted from the French by Louis Nathan. It will be played by a company headed by Henry Lee and managed by Nathan & Marx.

Mile. Rhea is said to have been well received in Buffalo, where she has been playing "Josephine, Campress of the French." a new play by Albert R. Haven. Mr. Haven is a newspaper man of this city. Wilson Barrett's company sails for this country on September 25. It is said that Mr. Barrett will bring no less than 310 tons of scenery with him and a large number of costumes. The scenery will include the stage settings used in England for all his plays. Rehearsals of the Booth Modjeska company will begin at the Broadway Theatre to-morrow. Rehearsals of "Ganelon," Lawrence Barrett's new play, have been going on there for the last week.

Miss Marle Walmwright will play "Twelfth Night" in Philadelphia to-morrow night. This is the opening performance at the house under the management of Nixon & Zimmermann.

Miss Victoria Vokes will begin her season in Philadelphia to-morrow night. It is several years since

Miss marie wain and the sign of the house under the management of Nixon & Zimmermann.

Miss Victoria Vokes will begin her season in Philadelphia to-morrow night. It is several years since her last appearance in this country, and her old friends will be anxious to see her again in the style of work that she means to do this season.

Selby Hall, seenie artist for Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, arrived here on the City of Rome last week. Mr. Wenman, who was with Henry Irving during his last two engagements in this country, will be a member of the Kendals' company. After Mr. and Mrs. Kendal go back to England, their daughter will make her first appearance on the stage. She is said to have much of her mother's talent.

Henry E. Dixey keeps himself and his company busy with rehearsals of "The Seven Ages" at the Standard Theatre. The managers do not say much about the piece, but they hope a good deal.

The stage of the Union Square Theatre is occupied a large part of the time with the preparations for Miss Helen Barry's new play, "Love and Liberty." Besides Miss Barry, the cast will include Clarence Handyside, Ralph Delmore, W. B. Arnold, Franz Reinan, Henry Holland, Victor Harmon, Walter Henry Reynolds, Miss Amy Eusby and Miss De Lorez, Adele Aus der Ohe, the young planist, arrived last Tuesday by the Werra. She will play in several concerts here and in Boston, and then make a tour which will very likely extend to San Francisco. Miss Aus der Ohe will be a solo planist at the Worcester festival.

der Ohe will be a solo plantst at the work of the tival.

Miss Jennie Dickerson, for a number of years the Miss Jennie Dickerson, for a number of years the leading contralto of the Carl Rosa Opera Company, has accepted an engagement to sing in the Gilmore concerts throughout the country.

The new Harlem Opera House will open on September 80, with Mr. Frohman's company in "The Wife." Among the attractions of the coming season will be Booth and Modjeska, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, Jefferson and Florence, Patti and the Emma Juch Opera Company.

Alexander Salvini is busy superintending the re-hearsals of the company that is to support his father at Palmer's Theatre. As already announced, he will act on the nights when his father does not appear and it is probable that his play will be "Partners" which was seen at the Madison Square Theatre last reason.

The landscape that will be seen by those who look across "Uncie Joshua's" farm at the Academy of Are manascape that will be seen by those who look across "Uncle Joshua's" farm at the Academy of Music this season, is rapidly becoming visible at the back of the stage. All the old friends, or as many of them as possible, will be asked to come and see it on September 23, and the nights that follow, till next summer.

A NEW MELODRAMA AT THE STANDARD. The next three weeks at the Standard Theatre will be occupied by Henry Pettitt's melodrama "Hands Across the Sea," which has been played in Philadelphis and Boston, but not yet in New-York. acts of the play include twelve scenes, and each act

The range of the scenes geographically is certainly a wide one, for they stretch from Devousnire, England. and Paris to Sydney, Australia, and are not confined to the land. There is a view of a large ocean steam are new, and some of the effects are said to be elaborate.

The cast for the piece includes Gustavus Levick, as the hero; Miss Edna Carey, as the heroine; W. J. Ferguson, as a villanous French gambler: John C. Buckstone, formerly a member of the company at Wallack's Theatre; Joseph Adleman, Miss Percy Haswell and Miss Lizzie Scanlan, a sister of W. J. Scanlan.

CALIFORNIA'S LAND BOOM.

HIGH-BINDERS - FINE LINGUIST-MISSION-ARIES-RICH SILVER MINES,

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE,] Ban Francisco, Sept. 14.-The applications made to the State Board of Equalization this week for a reduction of county assessments revealed some curious facts. They betrayed the fact that the effort to continue the boom in certain sections of the State has been disastrous to property-owners, and has resulted in the virtual confiscation of property in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diegos counties. Much alkali land near Los Angeles which is worthless is still assessed at $50 per acre because it was divided into town lots and sold at a big price at the time of the boom. Many specific instances of the terrible depreciation were given. In one case, property that sold two years ago for $16,000 has been returned to the owner for $6,000, the face of the mortgage on it.

One of the most curious features of this land craze was the paper towns. Statistics were given of sixty of these towns in Los Angeles County, two being actually on a desert. Lots in them were unloaded mainly on the Eastern public. These sixty towns have now only 2,300 people. Among these towns were Border City, with 1,920 lots and no inhabitants; Chicago Park, with 2,200 lots and the only inhabitant the watchman in charge of the leading hotel. Several other paper towns had no residents except the watchman taking care of the costly hotels. All admitted that the bottom had been reached, and that reaction was setting in. Los Angeles, San Diego and Fresno secured 10 per cent reduction, and San Francisco, San Bernardino and Santa Barbara 5 per cent. This official exposure of the inflation of land values will do good, as not even the hardened real estate agent can kick at these facts.

Another wreck of the land boom is A. L. Teele, a prominent real estate and insurance agent of Los Angeles, who this week sought safety in British Columbia. The extent of his defalcations is not yet known, but as he was the trusted agent for several capitalists and corporations the lesses will run far up into the thousands. Teele made a comfortable fortune during the land boom, but became a " plunger," lost all his money, and then speculated with other people's coin.

One suit, for $17,000, has been brought this week against the Chinese Consul-General here, and another is expected to be brought next week. These suits are to recover damages awarded by the United States Government for losses sustained in the anti-Chinese riots, the facts of which have already been published in The Tribune. The Consul has sent his wife and family to China, and it is expected that his successor will soon

A strong fight is being made against W. H. Sears, the regular candidate for Collector of Internal Revenue in the 1st California District. The chief charge against him is that under his administration as Collector of the Port the grossest frauds in issuing certificates to Chinese were practised. "The Chronicle" opposes him on this ground, and the probability is that his name will be withdrawn.

Duke Delia Volta, a rich old Italian, and to send the child, Stella, to a convent school. It is at this school that the play begins, and here Stella meets her father, who naturally does not recognize her, and his companions in arms, Robert and Gravolet. Stella and Robert lose no time in falling in love, but the old Duke has promised Stella's hand to the Marquis Bambini. In the second act the betrothal ceremony is about to take place at the Duke's palace when the e soldiers present themselves with a billet ordering the Duke to quarter them in his house. Then Montnabor recognizes his wife and finally his daughter. He gets her out of the house in disguise and the Duke and Bambini start in search of her. They meet her fare from Kingston. at Milan, where the scenes of the third act are laid, know her. In the end the drum-major and his wife are frustrated by the entrance of the French troops into the city, and the lovers are united. The scenery for the opera has been painted by Henry E. Hoyt and it includes the convent and grounds at hielda, the palace of the Duke Della Volta, a room in the Lion d'Or Inn and a street in Milan. The cast is announced as follows:

SARATOGA IN SEPTEMBER. MANY GUESTS STILL AT THE SPRINGS.

A WEEK OF GOOD WEATHER - RECENT AR RIVALS-NOTES.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 14 (Special).—The large number of visitors enjoying the September season here are congratulating themselves that they were not at any of the seaside resorts during the recent weather disturbances. Guests are not as nuperous as they were during the August crush, yet at the same time Saratoga is entertaining more people than at any other corresponding period. Those who prefer September and October for their Saratoga visit re annually increasing in number. The cottage are still here in full force, and the great majority of
